

Have you started planning your Business Cashflow yet?

Allen Roberts has a wealth of knowledge and experience in both the private and public sectors across a wide range of industries. He is the sole Director of StrategyAudit, a strategy and marketing consulting business. Allen works closely with small and medium sized businesses to make a real difference to improving your cash flow.

Allen has worked on strategy, marketing, sales, and business improvement initiatives and more recently on helping businesses transition to the digital world.

Don't miss this hands-on and practical presentation, networking and a chance at winning a 'one hour' consult with Allen Roberts.

In one hour, you will learn:

1. Why cash flow is your most important business metric
2. How to manage and record your cash flow
3. How to turn cash flow into profits
